

Searching for new talent?

Looking to fill an open position?

Creating a pool of future prospects?

Aviation companies seeking immediate and future employees can find exceptional talent with just one click. Current students and active job seekers are managing professional profiles in our Career Ready Portal.

Employers seek quality new talent, but face challenges.

Many aviation companies are actively seeking quality talent, but have difficulty locating, attracting, or speaking to prospective new hires. It's not a situation of "there's a shortage of quality labor, it's that they can't be found."

Students and job seekers want great jobs, but few know the right steps to take.

Candidates seek good companies and fulfilling roles, but face challenges finding suitable employers and making connections with the right leaders.

Pathways to Aviation is a solution for both employers and candidates. The non-profit organization regularly connects those seeking great aviation positions with companies seeking growth and advancement.

Find future hires through Pathways to Aviation.

Candidates managing career profiles

- ⇒ Reside in 40 states and 6 non-US countries.
- ⇒ Represent 107 different high schools in colleges.
- ⇒ Interested in avionics, engineering management, manufacturing, mechanics, piloting, technology, unmanned aerial vehicles, and more.

- ⇒ Earned ratings, certificates, and diplomas.
- ⇒ Participate in one-on-one mentoring, weekly workshops, and week long career events.

A talent acquisition solution!

When you find potential hires, how do you know they'll fit in your culture? Have these individuals been vetted? Are they career ready? The Pathways to Aviation career readiness certification process guides students and job seekers through a multi-step pathway to fine-tune their readiness skills and prepare them to enter the workplace. A core feature of the program is connecting candidates and employers.

Create a monthly subscription and...

- ⇒ Search for candidates
- ⇒ Review resumes
- ⇒ Make direct connections
- ⇒ Brand your company
- ⇒ Promote open positions

Decrease the amount of time and money you'll spend to making future hires. Instead, make an investment at a much lower rate and hire the right talent.
